DETAILS

Blazer collars are defined by their lapels ,

·Notch - classic V - cut for versatility (business / casual)

·Peak - features an upward pointing edge for boldness (formal / weddings)

·Shawl - offers a smooth , continuous curve (tuxedos / elegance) , with width and style varying for modern looks

Lapel Width:

The lapel width is measured at it's widest point, measured perpendicular to the inner edge of the lapel.

The three major types of lapel widths are:

- Slim - (~2.25 - 2.75")
- Regular - (~3.00 - 3.50")
- Wide - (~3.75 - 4.50")
